A Coterie of Solid Men on a Lark.

They Pay a Visit to a Gilded Palace of Sin.

And Indulge Themselves in a Social Game of Draw.

The Head of a Large Los Angeles Eslishment Said to Have Planted $12,000, and a San Francisco Man Gets Away with It.

Night before last four business men of this city whose combined wealth would buy any bank in the city, started out for a "time," and, according to all reports, they had it in prime style. All of them have large interests in this city, with the exception of one who hails from San Francisco, where he is looked upon as one of the shrewdest financiers in the whole country. Not only that, but he is a pillar in one of the fashionable churches, and may be seen with his family of grown-up daughters in the front pew almost any Sunday. But when he gets away from home he is one of the "bhoys" and it is doubtful if there is a blood in this city or any other who can give him pointers

He is well known in this city to a number of old bucks, and his arrival among them last Monday was the signal for a call to arms all along the line.

The three Los Angeles bald-heads sent affectionate notes to their good wives, in which they stated that business would keep them down town until a late hour, and not to look for them until they saw them. The notes were slightly chestnutty, for each one of the wives had received similar notes on many previous occasions, but after a woman has been married fifteen or twenty years she does not pay any attention to a little thing of that kind, and, while the thoroughly-proper ladies were snoring the snore of the virtuous, their frisky lords were breaking the necks of champagne bottles and conducting themselves in anything but a christianlike manner.

Shortly after 11 o'clock p.m. four nal for a call to arms all along the line.

necks of champagne bottles and conducting themselves in anything but a christianlike manner.

Shortly after 11 o'clock p.m. four very noisy gentlemen might have been seen making their way to a hack that stood in front of the restaurant at which they had dined.

They were driven hurriedly to one of the principal palaces of sin on Alameda street, and were soon comfortably scated in a handsome parlor. Several bottles of wine were opened when the San Francisco blood proposed a little game of "draw poker." Each one of them had toyed with the festive game before and all were considered good players.

In a few minutes the landlady had them fitted out with cards and a table, and one of the biggest poker games that has been played in Los Angeles for many a long year was begun. For a while the game ran along about even, when the limit was declared and the stakes began to loom up.

Either the San Francisco man is a better player than his Los Angeles chums, or he had drunk less wine, for it soon became evident that he was getting away with the "pot" right along.

One of the Los Angeles gentlemen played a bold hand, and while his "luck" staid with him he won heavily, but it changed shortly after 1 o'clock a.m., and before he knew it he had lost the $500 er $600 that he had started out with for the night's experience.

He then called the landlady in and began to borrow of her. His luck did lost the $500 er $600 that he had started out with for the night's experience.

He then called the landlady in and began to borrow of her. His luck did not return, and before he knew it he had borrowed over $1500 from her. She declared that she did not have another cent in the house, and he drew forth his check book and the game went merrily on. Hour after, hour passed, and when all tour of the gay old sports declared that they had had enough the clock on the courthouse tower was striking 11 o'clock a.m.

The San Francisco man seemed to have most of the winnings, and when he and the Los Angeles head of a big institution reached a big bank down town, where the gambling checks were seen cashed, the Los Angeles man found out that he had lost the neat little sum of $12,000. He took it in good part, for he knew that he had been playing in a square game, and, had either one of the other gentlemen lost a like sum, they would not have kicked.

The story leaked out among the gamblers yesterday, and was the main topic of conversation among that class and a few club men that got hold of it.

UNHAPPY MARRIED FOLKS

How Gaetano and Juanita Castino
Did Not Agree.

A TIMES reporter happened to be in Judge Clark's courtroom late yesterday afternoon when an attempt was made to secure the possession of some children by a writ of habeas corpus. The Court heard Attorney W. W. Biscailuz a few minutes on his request for a writ, and then refused to grant it, without going further into the matter.

without going further into the matter.

The romance concealed in the matter is connected with Gaetano Castino, and his wife, Mrs. Juanita Castino. They were married in March. 1878, and three children were the result of their union—Lucinda, aged 7 years, Gaetano, aged 3½ years, and Susana, aged 5 years. The marriage was not a happy one. The husband, so Mrs. Castino says, has treated her most brutally. She says that, on one occasion, he took her by the arm, thrust her out of the house on the Puente rancho, and threw her trunk after her. She says that he called her vile names, and accused her of unchastity.

They finally separated, and Gaetano came to Los Angeles, bringing the children with him. Mrs. Castino was heartbroken over the loss of her children, and stood it as long as she could; but now she wants them back, not believing that the father should have them.

Late in the afternoon a complaint them.

Late in the afternoon a complaint for divorce was filed in the County Clerk's office by the lady's attorney.

Gaetano is said to be qu'ite well off, possessing property that is varioualy estimated in value at from $30,000 to :40,000.

The Result of Over-competition and Over-building Apparent in Its Last Year's Earnings-A Healthy Railroad Giant Still.

The statement in yesterday's TIMES to the effect that C. P. Huntington and the Southern Pacific Company will not get control of the Santa Fé stock gave general satisfaction in this city, for the people were considerably worked up when it was reported that all competition in railroad circles was about to cease in this country. They felt that it would never do for the Southern Pacific to get hold of all the roads in the State, and there are a number of wealthy gentlemen who stood ready to step in and help the Santa Fé people, if by so doing they could bean the Santa Fé people, if by so doing they could keep the management in its present hands.

But there is no necessity for anything of the kind, as appears by the following straightforward statement from the New York Financier, one of the most reliable journals in the world. The Financier says:

The Financier says:
"The developments of late in the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé have naturally excited considerable interest, yet the times and exceptionally unfor-tunate circumstances are to blame, and not the directors of this great rail-read.

"Now that the railroad presidents' agreement seems likely to be signed by all the companies, the future of the Atchison and other lines of the country is decidedly promising. The setry is decidedly promising. The se-curity-holders in future will share the anxieties and perplexities which at times harass the most astute financiers in the most prosperous corporations. In the heat of ill-directed criticism it is easy to indulge in wholesale denunciations and fierce diatribes against officials who may have been confronted with unsolvable riddles of a financial cations and fierce diatribes against officials who may have been confronted with unsolvable riddles of a financial sphinx. Any one who knows the character of Mesars. Nickerson, Burt. Cheney and others who have been for a considerable period directors in the Atchison will refuse to bleve that they have misused the power conferred upon them as directors. The monthly statements made from time to time should have prepared the public for 'an exhibit of finances in which the inevitable results of excessive competition would be reflected. It is idle to expect figs of thisles—in other words, to expect prosperity when all the conditions were unflavorable, not only to this great road, but to so many that an extraordinary conference of railroad presidents has been found necessary to abate or remove the existing evils.

"A glance at the annual statement reveals an eloquent story of the drawbacks which the Atchison giant has been laboring under; of the all but Titanic adversaries which it has been obliged to face. The percentage of the operating expenses increased from 68.27 per cent. In 1887, to 67.69 per cent. In 1888, an increase of more than 14 per cent. Here is something that cannot be ignored. It is idle to poohpoh it as a triviality. It is a most skillful intancler, we need hardly say, cannot perform miracles. Low rates and an increase of operating expenses will naturally affect the net earnings. "Turming to the statement lately published, it is worth while to note that the Atchison 5 great of the present statement, 3019 miles, though the results of the operating expenses were 28.673,776, leaving expenses, instead of indicating expenses, instead of indicating a corresponding decrease, show an increase of 82,667,944, while the operating expenses, instead of indicating a corresponding decrease, show an increase of 82,667,944, while the operating expenses, instead of indicating a corresponding decrease, show an increase of 82,667,944, wh mile, 34, 384; operating and general expenses, $3206; net from operating, $1531.

"The statement so far as the Atchison line itself is concerned is much more favorable than was expected. One great trouble was that the branch lines ran behind and became a drag on the Atchison proper. Outside of the joint mileage, it is pointed out that the Atchison paid its fixed charges. The auxiliary roads, it is stated, exclusive of those owned jointly, failed to earn their fixed charges by about $3,000,000. If we add to this the deficit of $1,408,999 already pointed out, the total deficit would be $4,408,999 in 1888. The branch lines, however, contributed about $1,800,000 toward the deficiency in meeting the fixed charges, and deducting this the actual deficiency for the year 1888 was $2,008,999. The dividends paid were $2,625,000.

"It is pointed out by the Boston Herald that the maturity of the floating debt, as it stood November 30th, is admirably stated. The guarantee notes had been called upon November 30th to the amount of $700,000 only, leaving $6,300,000 liable to call. This amount less 24 per cent. commission would yield $4,785,000 toward meeting the $6,185,891, leaving $450,891 to be otherwise provided. There have at this date been $3,500,000 of the notes called. The guarantee fund of $7,000,000 oprovides for all debts and charges accrued November 30th, and payable at various dates up to July, 1899, to within less than $500,000. It does not provide for interest accruing subsequent to November 30th. This is to met from earnings.

"This is a sufficiently comprehensive glance at the financial condition of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé. Making due allowance for the enormous difficulties which have confronted the able men who have had its affairs in charge, the statement is not so unfavorable as pessimists and 'bears' in the stock market would have us believe. Among reflective, fair-minded men there is no criticism of the directors individually. As stated by the Boston Advertiser: In the financial management of the Atchison it has been the policy rather than the men' which is now under consideration. There is no desire to change the directors, for it is distinctly recognized that such a course would be to the last degree unwise. Abraham Lincoln familiarized us with the saying, 'Never swap horses while crossing a stream.' The management has not interfered with the work of investigation; indeed, they have in every possible manner sought to promote the welfare of the property; they have given a practical demonstration of their faith in the road; they have subscribed liberally to keep it off the lee shore and cut of the breakers. "The o'd board has the chart; in technical and yet familiar phrase, it knows the ropes. It knows the hidden rocks, the dangerous currents; it has experienced all the stress of the storm, and is better able than any other board could possibly be, to steer the ship of finance into clear water and keep it there. A new board would be at a great disadvantage. This is not a time for experiments. Henry Clay, the famous Kentucky statesman, was met on one occasion by a hardy mountaineer, who bluntly told him that he would not vote for him again at the coming election. "If your gunedoesn't happen to go off right, you don't throw it away, do

The great Kentuckian gave his hardy constituent a keen but kindly glance, and said:

"'If your gunodoesn't happen to go off right, you don't throw it away, do you? No, my friend, you pick the flint and try it again.' Needless to say the statesman did not lose that voter.

"We do not wish to create the impression that the present Atchison board is especially anxious that the security-holders should 'pick the flint and try it again,' but we do say that the present board is best fitted to manage the property, and this is the general opinion as to the distinguished financiers who have charge of the affairs of this great railroad.

"There is, another phase of this matter which it is worth while to consider. One of the new directors elected last year to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé board, was Mr. George C. Magoun of the firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co. This gentleman's reputation as a financier is such that any expression of opinion from him has weights He is quoted as saying that the majority of the Atchison auxiliary lines were in course of construction last vear, and of course are not in of $2,667,944, while the operating expenses, instead of indicating a corresponding decrease, show an increase to $638,699. The two movements result in a reduction of the net earnings by $3,304,543. Attention is called to the fact that one item in the report is not generally understood, namely, that of $508,899 income for interest on bonds sput up as collateral for other bonds issued against them. To eliminate it would reduce the net earnings of the road, an important item, but, regarding it as a legitimate source of income (and why not?), the net income of the company for 11 months of 1888 was $1,066,000, roll that this amount will be gentlemant to the stock. If we allowed $150,000 as the estimated net income for December, the result is an increase of 1.6 per cent. on a capital of $75,000,000 capital. The actual deficiency was $1,408,999.

"We observe by the statement that as to direct fixed charges the interest on bonds amounts to $2,188,049; that the interest bonds as rental is $1,456, 258; taxes were $583,185; sinking fund requirements, $302,248; net profit of the company, $1,068,000; deduct for dividends declared applicable in the period of 11 mouths to November 30th, $2,625,000; deficiency for that period, $419,389; receipts from other soorces, $46,600; total profit of the company, $1,068,000; deduct for dividends declared applicable in the period of 11 mouths to November 30th, $2,625,000; deficiency for that period, $41,784; operating and general expenses, $3208; net from operating, $1531.

"The statement so far as the Atchison is affairs which was entirely unaverage and in the recognized that the loss of earnings, which was entirely unaverage to the recognized that the loss of earnings, which was entirely unaverage to the response of the period of the read that the later of the read that the solid foundation for their future prosperity of the recognized that the loss of earnings which was entirely unaverage to the recognized that the loss of earnings which was entirely unaverage. year the company consolidated all its resources and issued short-time notes, as the New York banks issued clearing-house certificates in the panic of 1884. The auxiliary lines will be earning money before these short-time notes become due, and by that time the emergency will have passed."

"In view of the fact that the gentleman quoted was elected by large interests, with a view-of promoting the welfare of the road, these utterances are not merely hopeful; they have decided significance and force. When the public comes to reason carefully on this subject, a far more hopeful view of the condition of affairs will be taken. It was as shrewd an observer as Martin Van Buren who said that the 'sober second thought of the people is never wrong and is always efficient.' The sober second thought of the people on Atchison's affairs will be commendatory rather than otherwise. It will be recognized that the men in charge of the Atchison's affairs did all that financiers of long experience could do to promote its interests, and that, ultimately, their policy will be found to be the one best calculated to lay the solid foundation for their future prosperity of the road. It will be recognized that the loss of earnings, which was entirely unavoidable, was the great obstacle in the path of the directors. As already intimated, rate wars growing out of increased competition are responsible for this. The indications point to a brighter future in this respect. The new territory opened is constantly being developed, crops are gradually increasing, and, with remunerative rates, the Atchison will take its place on the heights of prosperity. It is a great road, and beyond all question it has a brilliant future."

Mr. Skinner made quite a speech upon the condition of the order, and explained its methods and purposes. His showing was a very creditable one. The Royal Arcanum was organized in 1877 with nine members. Since that time it has grewn until there are now 1126 subordinate councils, with an estimated membership December 31, 1888, of 87,724. UNWELCOME TENANTS.

Mrs. Abbott Wants to Be Rid of the Salvationists A case which has excited the liveliest kind of animosities, and which has been brewing for a long time, is now on trial before Judge Van Dyke, in Department No. 4 of the Superior Court. It is a contest between The Circle Francais and Mrs. Abbott, to settle the validity of the lease by which the club holds its rooms on North Main street, in Mrs. Abbott's building. The suit has been brought by Mrs. Abbott, and afterward, as many will remember, the Salvation Army sublet from the club. They carried on their exercises in the hall, and made such a racket that Mrs. Abbott, who lives in the upper story with her family, tried in every imaginable way to get them out. But the Salvationists held the fort. At one time Mrs. Abbott armed her children and some friends with roller skates, and they held a regular skating carnival in an empty room above the Salvationists. The rumble of the skates overhead drowned out the religious proceedings below, and it was nip and tuck as to which would carry the day. The Salvation Army finally appealed to the police to stop the skates, and a truce was patched up. Ever since then Mrs. Abbot has been watching her chance, and has finally got into court with the matter. Some testimony was taken in the case yesterday. North Main street, in Mrs. Abbott's

It states that it had seven service pipes on Fifth street and Wolfakill avenue, and on August ist the defendants laid gas pipes on the street mentioned, and attached to the service pipes; that the defendants used the service pipes wrongfully and exclusively. The plaintiff retook possession of the pipes on the 23d of February. The defendants claim that they have the right and will continue to use the pipes. The plaintiff therefore prays for an injunction to restrain the defendants from using the pipes, and for judgment for $300 damages already incurred.

The soil is a deep, rich, sandy loam. An inerausable supply of water. Mr. Milton Thomas and Mr. Byron O, Clark, the well known and experienced nurserymen, have purchased large tracts of these lands and planted them to orchards. They regard them as the very best lands in Los Angelse county for the cultivation of all kinds of deciduous fruits, olives and English walnuts, and owing to their near proximity to Los Angelse city, the cheapest lands in Southern Crilferna at the price they are new offered. It costs nothing to examine these lands.

LAW BREAKERS.

A NUMBER OF THEM SENTENCED BY JUDGE CHENEY.

ohn Anderson, My Joe, John, Goes Up for Two Years-Allen, Out-trim and Manson Booked for Two Years at San Quentiq.

Judge Cheney, Department No. 1 of the Superior Court, did little else yes-terday except sentence criminals who had pleaded guilty to offenses with which they had been charged.

John Anderson, George Clarke and Frank Lamoreaux, who started in to indulge in wholesale burglary some time ago, and were caught up with when they stole a trunk from B. Jastrowitz and a valise and clothing when they stole a trunk from B. Jastrowitz and a valise and clothing from J. Aublien's room at No. 112 Los Angeles street, were indicted. Anderson pleaded guilty to burglary, and yesterday the Court fixed the degree of his crime at burglary in the second degree, sentencing him to two years' imprisonment at San Quentin.

Thomas Jordan, who was convicted of stealing a $20 gold piece from Michael Burk, at Los Metos, last October, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or go to jail, and he was unable to pay his fine.

William Allen, George W. Outtrim and Robert Manson were each sentenced to two years at San Quentin. They pleaded guilty to robbery. Their crime consisted in the holding up of James R. Supples and relieving him of $5 in silver.

The Judge, in sentencing these men, read them a lecture on the evil effects of intoxicating liquors, and said that, while the county was paid roundly for licenses, the money all went out in prosecuting offenses committed through its influence.

Antonio Ancuna withdrew the plea of not guilty to the charge of assault to murder, and entered a plea of guilty of assault. Today was fixed for his sentence.

An information was filed against to murder, and entered a plea of guilty of assault. Today was fixed for his sentence.

An information was filed against Rudolph Kirste, the defaulting railroad clerk, charging him with embezzlement and forgery. He was arrigned, and March 11th was set for the time for him to plead.

An information was filed against I. H. Browning, charging him with forgery. It seems that Browning was in the employ of R. G. Thompson of Santa Ana, a retired minister. He was in his employ only a few weeks ago, and was discharged by him. Mr. Thompson gave him a check on the First National Bank of Santa Ana for $6.50, the balance of wages due him for services performed.

It transpired that a check for $60.50 was cashed at the bank, and upon investigation it proved to be the check which he had drawn for $6.50. The original had been raised by the addition of a cipher, and was so well done as to deceive the bank officers. Search was made for Browning, and he was arrested and charged with the offense. The case against the accused seems to be a very clear one. Ms. Thompson says he owed Browning only $6.50, and the check was to pay him in full.

Board of Education.

The Board of Education met last night, with Chairman E. P. Johnson and Directors Pomeroy, Day, Embody and Crawford present. Superintendent Friesner and Deputy Superintendent the members-elect were also present

A number of bills were read, and denied.

Bids for printing the annual report of the board were opened. The bid of the Herald was $2 per page; of The Times, $2.50; of the Express, $2.55. The contract was awarded to the Herald.

The board adjourned until the 21st inst., when the new board will meet and receive the reins of government from its hands.

A Promising Colony.

The Chicago Colony, which recently purchased 1280 acres from the Simi Land and Water Company in the Simi Valley, has just finished boring its first artesian well. It is less than 90 feet deep, the pipe is only 7 inches in diameter, and the flow is over 20 miners' inches. The well is now capped and connected with two-inch pipes, which conduct the water to the dozen houses already erected by the colony. Other wells are being bored, and this solution of the water question assures the success of the colony.

Against the Elevated Bridge. Suit was brought against Los An-eles city and the California Bridge geles city and the California Bridge Company yesterday in the Superior Court by Charles Shatte. It is a suit to restrain the city from building an elevated viaduct over the Los Angeles River on First street. He claims that it will damage his property on First street to the extent of $25,000, as the viaduct will run in front of his premises, and that he went to an expense of $2500 in improving them and adjusting them to the former established grade of the street.

HE TOOK THE WRONG MEDICINE.

Robert Stewart of Petaluma recently had a queer experience. He writes:

"Carbuncies and boils afflicted my face and neck for weeks. Finally I procured a bottle of one of the leading sarasparillas. To my surprise it made metters worse. This made me lose faith in sarasparillas, but seeing a statement that Joy's Vegetable Sarasparilla dried up boils and face sruptions instead of forcing more out as the potash sarasparillas do, I bought a bottle. The effect was astonishing. The carbuncies and boils began to dry up, and in two weeks my face was as well and smooth as ever. My brother also took a bottle with the same benefit.

Boarar Syswart,

"Petaluma Cal."

[Explanatory Note—The mineral lodde of potash, which is the basis of nearly all other sarasparilla, attacks the blood direct, hence forces impurities through the skin, creating more boils and pimples. Joy's Vegetable Steraparilla acts oppositely. Its vegetable siteratives stimulate the various secretive organs and thus eliminate all impurities through the natural channels, hence dries up pimples and kin sruptions at once. The above testimonial is a case in point.]

BAR ASSOCIATION.

Present from Col. Duncan—The Court Journal.

At the meeting of the Bar Association yesterday afternoon, Judge W. F. Fitzgerald, on behalf of Col. Blanton Duncan of Kentucky, presented to the association a complete set of the Congressional Globe, from the first volume to the present time. The books were accepted, and left with the Law Library for the present.

The association appointed as a committee to be present at the session of the Board of Supervisors today, and advocate an appropriation for the Court Journal, J. W. Swanwick, R. Dunnigan and Percy R. Wilson, Esqs. It appears that the Supervisors of San Francisco appropriate $200 a month to sustain a similar publication there.

Young Robbers Sentenced.

An incident something out of the general run occurred in Judge Cheney's court yesterday. Several days ago, three young boys knocked an old man down and robbed him of $5.

The case was clear, and the boys were yesterday sentenced to two years each in San Quentin. The mother of one of the boys, George Outrim, was very this morning.

much disappointed that her boy did-not get a heavier sentence. She is an honest, hard-working old woman, and was almost heartbroken over the affair, but thought the boy should be punished to the full extent of the law. The young ruffian seemed to regard the whole thing as a huge joke.

Gatarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him hat the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hearseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is sometimes fold in the throat, or it appears

CIVIL service reform is evidently here to stay, and office-holders had better make up their minds to that fact. THE CABINET.

The anxiety of the public is at length appeased. The long looked-for Cab-inet has been announced. The names of the eight prominent Americans who are to preside over the interests of the country for four years, in as many de-partments, are published to the world this morning.

As far as this Coast is concerned, the first thing which will strike our citizens is that we are omitted from the Cabinet. We must console ourselves with the reflection st, after another four years, the Pacific Coast will have become so important as to demand and eceive recognition.

The Southern States are also out of the fold. New England gets two representatives—Blaine and Proctor; the Middle States two—Tracy and Wanamaker; the Northwest two-Windom and Rusk. The other two, Miller and Noble, are from Indiana and Missouri

The President has evidently given great care to the selection of his advisers. His choice has not been made in a hurry, but deliberately and after thorough investigation. There will be small ground for criticism of the President's choice. In our telegraph columns will be found short biographical notices of the appointees.

In regard to the appointment of Mr. Blaine as Secretary of State, we have several times expressed our opinion as to the policy of such an appointment It is needless to say that the consum-mation of the fact does not change the views of THE TIMES one iota. There is no question whatever as to Mr. Blaine's great ability—an ability far above the average. We shall hope that he will permit his sense of patriotism to subordinate his sometimes very pronounced individuality, in which case there is no danger that his appointment will lead to any strained relations in the party.

President Harrison's advisers are representative American gentlemen and statesmen, who will do credit to the Administration and to the Nation.

SECRETARY WINDOM.

In its issue of February 23d, the New York Financier has the following to say about William Windom, President Harrison's appointee as Secretary of the Treasury of the Treasury:

Twenty years in Congress, in the House and the Senate, has been the period of this honorable service, and this identity has made Minnesota and Mr. Windom as one, and never has his State had cause to regret his selection to fill any position. The prominence of this gentleman in both House and Senate, as attested by the record this most important period of the Nation's House and Senate, as attested by the record of this most important period of the Nation's existence from 1859 to 1883, is conclusive of his ability, and from the foot of the ladder as a poor boy he worked his way up. In the Senate, Mr. Windom was chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Foreign Affairs and Transportation and his views as expressed in speeches and reports on both interstate commerce, currency and other questions are replete with sound, practical sense. The election of President Garfield called Senator Windom to his Cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury, and the vast financial interests of the country centered in New York found him broadly comprehensive and entirely capable. He was independent, without arrogance, and considerate of all proper surgestions; nothing but the highest fidelity, and most able discharge of his duty characterized his term of service at the head of the financial department of the Nation.

ment of the Nation.

Ex-Secretary Windom is now in the maturity of his powers, physical and mental, has a competency as the result of his industry and frugality; is blessed with a most estimable New England wife; has the remembrance of many good deeds to increase his happiness, and the promise of years of future usefulness in which the highly meritorious results already attained are likely to be enlarged.

In statesmanship Mr. Windom is the peer of any man in this land, and his record is without blemish.

THE abolition of slavery in Brazil has had the usual primary result of all sudden revolutions of this character condition of affairs bordering upon chaos. A report by a British Vice-consul from the province of Maranham says:

"The result, so far, has been something like chaos; the freed men do not generally, or with any constancy, take to the work; so to the work when they like, leave off when they like, so that up to the present the information from all parts of the province is most disheartening. Some of the most energetic and able among the planters have given up in despair under the difficulties of obtaining workmen, and also the low price of produce.

The position of affairs is thus most serious; the crops were reported exceptionally large, but it is quite impossible to say what proportion will be collected. All efforts and even sacrifices are being made to collect this crop, but nothing doing to prepare for that of next year."

Such sudden transitions are also.

Such sudden transitions are always dangerous, as we have discovered in this country.

COMMENTING on the Atchison state

COMMENTING on the Atchison statement, the Financier says:

The subsidiary lines will in time be of much greater value than now written on the Atchison books, and appearances certainly point to the conclusion that this splendid system has weathered the storm, and that the good freights and better rates it is now enjoying will draw it back to financial strength and prosperity.

Mr. Wattney is referred to by the leading Democratic paper of the country as the only member of the late Administration who has a future.

"The Water Lilly," (Gade)—Philharmonic chorus.

"The Hymn of the Apostics." Recemption. (Gounod)—Philharmonic society.

Bezinning with Conradi's pretty light overture, admirably played throughout, the second number was the Vesper Hymn. This the chorus gave somewhat lugubriously, though the harmony was well maintained and the tone solid and sustained.

Bruch's "Flight of the Holy Family" is somewhat intricate, and at first the chorus seemed afraid of it, and were notably dverborue by the orchestra, but soon rallied bravely and gave the greater part of it in excellent confidence.

The Mozart Concerto was smoothly played, but was too long, and, though full of the little delicacies of the composer, was also a trifle tedious.

The society is an admirable organization, is working faithfully, and will have reason to be proud of its work if it runs with patience the race set before it.

change of official heads. Sight-seers streamed through the corridors and kept the clerks busy answering questions. The President came down shortly after 10 o'clock, took his station in the east room and began the ordeal of shaking hands with the crowds as they passed before him. The President continued the reception up to 3:30 o'clock, and shook hands with thousands of persons, including the members of many military and civic organizations. Secretary Blaine came in with the rest of the crowd, and stopped for a short chat with the President. He was recognized by the waiting throng as he left the house, and was given quite an ovation. Another conspicuous visitor was Representative Randail, who called with the Pennsylvania organizations. Gen. Barnum of New York and staff were also among the visitors. At 3:30 o'clock the grounds were still thronged. The reception was therefore closed for the day, and those in waiting were informed that as it was impossible for the President to shake hands with all of them he would come out on the porch and review them as they passed along. This announcement was well received, and the crowd formed in line and marched across the portion, while the President stood in the doorway bowing his acknowledgments of their salutations. Riotous Conduct of Some Pennsylvania Militiamen.

Washington, March 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The Pennsylvania troops became very disorderly today, and at one time it looked as if there might be serious trouble. A crowd of Pennsylvania militiamen had congregated on E street, between Righth and Ninth, completely blockading the thoroughfare, daring all pedestrians and drivers to attempt to pass the line. A patrol of police several times dispersed them, but after awhile it was found necessary to appeal to Gen. Hastings, who ordered Col. Crawford of the Tenth Pennsylvania to clear the street and keep it clear. The Colonel detailed a company ito charge up and down the street with fixed bayonets, and in this way the mob was broken up.

Most of the rioters were partly intoxicated, and they made themselves a terror to hucksters, keepers of small stands and peddlers by rifing them of their goods and severely hundling them whenever they offered any resistance.

was precipitated by the entry or judgment for $140,000 by the Reading Railroad. The failed company is one of the largest in America.

A director of the company said this afternoon that, at a meeting to be held on Thursday, the shareholders will be asked to take stock or bonds in exchange for their claims. He added that unless this were done, the company would be forced to liquidate, and the creditors would then get very little. The company has issued $250,000 first mortrage and $150,000 second mortrage bonds. In addition to this, there is $500,000 of preferred stock and $500 of common stock. The floating debt is said to be heavy.

About 2500 men are employed in the works at Reading. The works were originally owned by Selfert, McManus & Co. The firm failed some years ago, and the creditors organized, and decided to continue the business under the title of the Reading Iron Works. Duliness in trade and shrinkage in prices finally overwhelmed it.

A stockholder said this afternoon: "It think the plant worth $1,000,000. I do not know just what our liabilities are." The liabilities are said by others to be about $1,000,000. Of this, $600,000 consists of funded debt, and the balance, $400,000, is due to various parties, mostly for material purchased at various times.

He is legally married to the woman who supports him from the earnings of her shame, and he keeps her in one of the "cribs" on New High street. It is probable that Elliott will be taken care of by the county for the next three months.

Richard White, the suspicious character gathered in on Los Angeles street Monday night with a couple of bowie knives and a surgeon's pocket case in his possession, and against whom a his possession, and against whom a charge of carrying concealed weapons was entered, turns out to be a burglar. Yesterday Dr. Clauson, who rooms on Upper Main street, came to the police station and identified the articles, which had been stolen from his room. The charge against White has been changed, and he will be prosecuted for burglary.

Last night a young man left his new plug hat and fine overcoat in the gal-lery at Armory Hall and joined in the ferstivities on the lower floor, and when he went after them some hours later he found that some one had made an exchange, leaving an old rusty overcost and brown slouch hat in their place. A Stage Ride. SAN FERNANDO, March 5.— [Correspondence of The Times.] I often wonder if your tourist readers who like to know something about the country off the line of railroads are aware that one of the most attractive and pleasant trips out of Los Angeles can be made in 24 hours. I refer to the stage drive from Fernando across Santa Susanna Pass into Ventura county and return. This trip used to be a rather rough one for those who were unaccustomed to mountain roads on account of the condition of steep ascent from San Fernando Val-ley to the top of the grade. But in the last few months Los Angeles and the last few months Los Angeles and Ventura counties have vied with each other in making the Santa Susanna one of the best and most picturesque mountain roads in this part of the State. A drive over it is now a pleasure which it is worth traveling some distance to enjoy, and those who make the drive by private conveyance from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara should not fail to go by this road, as it is far more attractive than the old road through El Coneja er by Newhall, and is also nearer.

road through El Coneja er by Newhall, and is also nearer.

Fernando is 20 miles north of Los Angeles, on the Southern Pacific railroad. The tourist takes the 1:20 train from Los Angeles, and at Fernando meets a comfortable four-horse stage, driven by one of the "crack" drivers of Arizona. "Charlie" handles the ribbons in the most approved style, and a drive with him is a pleasure to be remembered. An hour and a half brings us to the foot of the mountains, that have Fernando on the west. When we reach the summit a view is seen that is hardly surpassed by the panorama seen from Wilson's Peak. Then comes the spin down the grade and through the beautiful groves of oak into the Simi Valley, one of the gems of Southern California.

After such a drive, an attractive homelike botel is a desiderature not.

gems of Southern California.

After such a drive, an attractive, homelike hotel is a desideratum not always found at the end of a day's journey. But at Simi this crowning comfort is not lacking, and cheerful wood fires and a well-spread table with juicy tenderloin steaks or quall on toast give a welcome that none can criticise.

toast give a welcome that none can criticise.

The elevation of Simi Valley at the hotel is 1250 feet, and the air is pitte and bracing. I have never spent and bracing. I have never spent a night there (and go often) without feeling benefited by the change.

On the morning, after arriving is always time to see something of the valley if it is necessary to return within the 24 hours. But for health-seekers or gentlemen who like a little shooting, a week or two is better than a day.

Simi Valley is filling up with good people, and the fine, flowing arresian wells they are now getting within 100 feet in depth give promise of a prosperous future for the settlers.

A Lodging-house Fire.
This morning about 1 o'clock the Harris lodging-house, a large frame structure at the corner of Third street and Santa Fé avenue, just back of the roundhouse, was totally destroyed by fire, together with two or three small frame cottages adjoining. Patrolman William Turner of Lawson's patrol first saw the fire and turned in the alarm. Only one man, a deputy constable named Creelman, was aleeping in the house at the time, as it had been closed for several weeks. closed for several weeks. Occupants of the cottages barely had time to get out, and did not even save their wearing apparel. Nothing is known as to the origin of the fire.

A Cheeky Demand.

The unparalleled impudence of the Pacific Sewerage Company (the West system) in presenting a bill of $1500 to the Council, for the payment of the exthe Council, for the payment of the expenses of the committee that went to Atlantic City to inspect the works of the company there, when at the time it made the offer to pay all the expenses, was the general topic of conversation on the streets yesterday, and it was the unanimous sentiment that no attention whatever should be paid to it. It was generally regarded as an attempt to railroad the bill through, while the Councilmen were off their guard, and a piece of very sharp practice.

A Bunch of "Vags."

Officers Mullaly and Manning ran in another bunch of vagrants caught prowling about on Downey avenue, between 11 and 12 o'clock last night. The patrol wagon was telephoned for, and they were carted to the police station. They gave the names of James Riley, Joe Reice, Charles Anson and Ed Frye.

The room was handsomely ornamented for the occasion, vases of lovely flowers being noticed in various parts of the spacious hall. The evening was pleasantly spent in the study of whist and in listening to the rendition of an excellently prepared programme. The inner man, too, was not neglected, and light refreshments partaken of. The mazy waltz and the remainder of Terpsichore's programme also served to afford amusement for those who liked it. All in all it was a very enjoyable party. AT PICKWICK HALL.

THE EAST SIDERS.

THE EAST SIDERS.

The near approach of the Lenten season was not unforgotten when the East Side Whist Club met last evening for the last time in six weeks. The home of C. C. Brown, on East Locust street, was the place of the meet. About 30 guests were present, and six tables kept going by their occupants in the straggle for successful whist players. After the games a grand supper was served, to which all seemed to do fair justice. At its conclusion all were called into the dining-room, where Mr. Brown, in his characteristic and original style delivered a brief address, and at the same time presented President McCaldin with a very unique silver call bell and Secretary. Graham with a varied assortment of handkerchief wear. A good musical programme followed, participated in by Messrs. Parkes and Bremner and Mmes. McCaldin, Parkes, Doyle and Miss Lukens. Mr. Walker, also gave a recitation. This was the last meeting of the club until after the Lenten season. Last evening the guests present were Mmes. McCaldin, Brown, Somers, Parkes, Crawford, Collingwood, Lukens, Graham, Arnold, Doyle. Avery, Chandler, Nelson, and the Misses Lukens, Chandler, Williams, and the following gentlemen: Messrs. Lukens, Collingwood, Brown, Somers, McCaldin, Parkes, Bremner, Walker, McNeil and Crawford.

With the immense settlement that must as the nature of things follow the subdivision into small farms of such a large area of valicable and productive land around BAKEES-PIELD; with the steady stream of similgration that will pour into this section of the country, transforming the county into one gigantic colony, with its countless number of corchards and vineyards, drawing to it men of enterprise and capital, BAKESIGFTELD, with its incomparable water power, and other natural advantages; with its railroad facilities at hand, and the almost positive certainty of being the terminal point of another time, will grow to, and become, beyond a foutt, a city of great proportions, and town tos will become very valuable. Within the last year and other very valuable. Within the last year and converted as BAKEESFIELD. The SOUTHERM HOTEL, a large and handeone trick and from circuture, confing 4100,000, will be opened to the public about the middle of Mach, ensuring all who attend this sale comfortable accommodations. A street railway has been in successful operation for a year, the town is well supplied with water, and a fine quality of illuminating gas is furnished from the works just completed, as prices ruling in other interior cities. Does It Pay?

Three-fourths of our people are troubled with dyspepsia or liver complaint in some form or other, which by nature of the discase has a depressing influence on the miad or body, preventing them from thinking or neting clearly in any matter of importance. Indigestion, coming up of food after eating, dyspepsia, sick headache, acidity of the stomach or liver (upon which the whole action of our system depends) are speedily and effectually overcome by the use of Green's August Flower. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its influence, as thousands of letters received will testify. The immense sale of this medicine is another guarantee of its merits (over a million and a half bottles soid last year). So we sak, will it pay you to suffer from any of the above diseases when you can have immediate relief in the sAugust Flower? Three doses will prove its worth. It is sold by all drugglets and general dealers in the world.
